

EMERGENCY FIRST AID

All injuries and illnesses requiring medical attention must be reported to Public Safety and an Injury/Accident Report must be completed.

While it is impossible to address every injury or illness, the following procedures generally apply:

- A. Check the scene to make sure it is safe for you to respond.
- B. Call 911 and provide requested information.
- C. Remain on the line with the 911 dispatcher in case follow-up information is necessary.
- D. Call or instruct someone else to call Public Safety and provide requested information
- E. Render any immediate first aid you are qualified to provide. Do not move injured persons unless a life-threatening condition such as a fire exists.
- F. Remain or instruct someone to remain at the scene as long as necessary to assist Public Safety and/or other responding personnel.
